

A Course of Love

The Journey Home to Wholeheartedness

Mari Perron

Sunday, February 26 at 2:00 pm

Mari Perron, scribe and first receiver of A Course of Love, is coming to the Center in February. The book, A Course of Love, has become a treasured guide for those longing to come home to love and to their true selves. It offers a way of knowing that allows the mind to quiet and the heart to hear the wisdom from within. In A Course of Love we hear our heart saying: "Come home, come home... you will know there is a place within where you are missed and longed for and safe and loved." This homecoming is the joy, fulfillment and spiritual necessity of being true to who we are at last. There are more than 60 book groups in the US and around the world meeting to read and share A Course of Love.

Join us to hear Mari as she shares her mystical journey in receiving A Course of Love, her major work. Her experience reveals the union and symmetry that exist between mind and heart, ordinary and extraordinary, and the oneness of our human/divine nature. Mari is a contemplative and a writer, and is author of Creation of the New, The Given Self, and two books of The Grace Trilogy. Mari's talk on Sunday afternoon, February 26, is free and open to the public, no tickets or reservations are required.

On Saturday, February 25, Mari will also lead a day-long retreat for readers and those interested in going more deeply into A Course of Love. For more info or tickets to the day-long retreat visit the Center website listed below.

The Course of Love testifies that discontented families, if we cannot call them unhappy ones, are much alike after all." —Flavorwire.
"Well-observed and imbued with a tenderness that feels authentic and uncynical." —The Course of Love is a complete delight.
Not surprisingly, I feel that Alain de Botton not only wrote it for me, but also that we must have been conversing on these subjects happily and deeply, privately or in my dreams." —Amy Bloom, New York Times bestselling author of Away and Lucky Us. A Course of Love: Combined Volume. Show more. The Course of Love explores what happens after the birth of love, what it takes to maintain, and what happens to our original ideals under the pressures of an average existence. We see, along with Rabih and Kirsten, the first flush of infatuation, the effortless of falling into romantic love, and the course of life thereafter. Interwoven with their story and its challenges is an overlay of philosophy--an annotation and a guide to what we are reading.
