

Into the Unknown How Great Explorers Found Their Way by Land, Sea, and Air

By Stewart Ross

Candlewick. Paperback. Condition: New. Stephen Biesty (illustrator). 96 pages. Dimensions: 11.2in. x 9.6in. x 0.4in. Ready to relive some of the most daring voyages of all time Unfold these spectacular cross sections and explore fourteen historic journeys. Open this dynamic book and discover how the greatest explorers in history from Marco Polo to Neil Armstrong plunged into the unknown and boldly pieced together the picture of the world we have today. With the help of masterful cross sections, dramatic storytelling, and sidebars that highlight key concepts, places, and technology, immerse yourself in such expeditions as: Leif Erikssons voyage to North America (eleventh century) Zheng Hes travels from China to East Africa (fifteenth century) Magellans circumnavigation of the globe (sixteenth century) Tenzing Norgays and Edmund Hillarys scaling of Mt. Everest (twentieth century) Plus ten more exciting journeys! This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.

READ ONLINE
[8.26 MB]

Reviews

This book is very gripping and exciting. I was able to comprehend everything out of this written e publication. You will not truly feel monotony at any time of your respective time (that's what catalogs are for concerning should you question me).

-- Eulalia Schamberger

It is great and fantastic. I have go through and i am sure that i will likely to study again once again later on. I am just easily could possibly get a enjoyment of looking at a published book.

-- Tad Stanton Sr.

Considering how much material is crammed into it, $10 is a steal. I actually recommend buying the paperback instead of the hardcover. The pages are larger, the format isn't quite as cluttered, and the fold-outs are less likely to be destroyed by adolescents. Read more. 12 people found this helpful. Helpful. Comment Report abuse.[^] This book has been really enjoyed by my year 4 class during our Adventurers and Explorers topic. Fabulous detailed illustrations and lots of written information. Read more. What initially appears to be a kids's™ gift book with a plethora of glitzy foldouts is actually a tidily focused, intriguingly illustrated account of fourteen explorations, â€œnot necessarily the most important in terms of what they found, but each one . . . extraordinary for the way that it was made.â€

Entries of Do you want to read the rest of this article? Request full-text. Advertisement. Citations \(0\). References \(0\).

Find many great new & used options and get the best deals for Into the Unknown : How Great Explorers Found Their Way by Land, Sea, and Air by Stewart Ross (2014, Trade Paperback) at the best online prices at eBay! Free shipping for many products!Â Unfold these spectacular cross sections and explore fourteen historic journeys, with the help of dramatic storytelling and sidebars that highlight key concepts, places, and technology. Presented in a larger format to make these exciting journeys even more accessible and engaging. Back matter includes an index, a glossary, and sources. Into the Unknown: How Gre has been added to your Basket. Add to Basket. Buy Now.Â "Into the Unknown" is definitely a return to form for him. The artwork isn't quite as detailed as those contained in "Incredible Cross-Sections" or his work with DK in the 90s, but there's still a ton of "cool stuff" here for his fans and smart kids. He's illustrated plenty of vehicles before, but here, he gets "under the skin" of famous exploration craft like the bathyscaphe "Trieste," a Chinese treasure ship, and Umberto Nobile's airship "Italia." You can show how people relate to a space and you can explore the realities and practicalities of the place, how people lived, how they adapted to their surroundings, how they slept, how they ate. YouTube Encyclopedic. 1/3.Â 2014: Giant Vehicles (Rod Green). 2014: Into the Unknown: How Great Explorers Found Their Way by Land, Sea, and Air (Stewart Ross). 2015: To the Rescue (Rod Green). 2015: Emergency Vehicles (Rod Green). 2017: Trains (Ian Graham). 2017: Exploring Space: From Galileo to the Mars Rover and Beyond (Martin Jenkins). 2018: Flying Machines (Ian Graham). References. Considered as one of the greatest explorers of all time, Ibn Battuta was a Moroccan who travelled across the entire Islamic regions of Africa, Asia and southeastern Europe. His thirst of knowledge led him through North Africa, Egypt, Arabia, Persia, Afghanistan. He even crossed the Himalayas to reach India, China, South-East Asia, Maldives and all the way back to Morocco.Â The Italian explorer planned to sail to far west to find a better sea route to the eastern country, hoping to circle around the world. But instead, he landed in the Bahamas. From then, Columbus paid repeated visits to the western land and found himself in Central and South America. He crossed the Atlantic Ocean several times and established prominent trade links between Europe and America.