

Perspectives on Indian History, Historiography, and Philosophy of History

By G.P. Singh

D.K. Printworld (P) Ltd., New Delhi, 2009. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. First edition. 15 x 23 cm. The volume is a collection of papers on certain aspects of Indian history, historiography and culture. The papers are fundamental, insightful and path-breaking to some extent. Combining literary, archaeological, scientific and other perspectives, they cover a range of subjects stretching from ancient to modern India. The volume deals with the Greek historians, the Indian epic and Puranic tradition of historiography, colonial and cultural expansion of the Aryans, the early history of north-west India, society, trade and commerce in ancient India, economic, political and cultural contacts of India with other parts of Asia in ancient and medieval periods, and the 1857 War of Independence in India. It takes up some very interesting and new subjects like role of Brahmanas in the anti-Alexander movement in north-west India and the concept of national integration in ancient India. It explores the sources of history of Uttar Pradesh and the antiquity of Ayodhya and historicity of Rama in an interesting study. The volume will be of immense use to historians and scholars of philosophy. Contents Preface Translation Chart 1. Was Herodotus of Greece the Father of History? 2....

Some scholars outside historical scholarship view history as a past, that only has relevance when it is needed or "past"™ that should totally be forgotten.Â It should further be understood that history as a process, discipline and science, historiography and historian are both interwoven and greatly help in nation building project. II. The concepts of history and historiography. In the first place many definitions have been put forward at explaining the term "History" as an. academic course of study. To some people it is a branch of knowledge that deals with the past. Furthermore, another group of people defined history as a transformation of society in time and space.1 But the academic.
